Title: Tools of Liberation

Introduction:

Welcome to the Scrolls of DaddyMan — where ancient wisdom meets ghetto resilience. This teaching explores how creativity, craftsmanship, and community upliftment are tools of liberation, not luxury.

Lesson One: From Sawdust to Sovereignty

"Every splinter of wood I shave is one more chain I break."

- In the garrison, the hammer is more than a tool. It's a voice.
- The saw is more than a blade. It's a path.
- Learn how carpentry becomes a metaphor for spiritual reconstruction.

Lesson Two: Build, Don't Burn

"Fire can warm or destroy — choose wisely."

- The ghetto youth must reclaim the power to build.
- Discipline, not destruction, is our protest.
- Peace is the ultimate form of rebellion.

Lesson Three: Tools as Symbols

"The nail and the chisel can sculpt a future."

- Let the hammer become your mic.
- Let the blueprint become your prayer.
- Let your hands speak what Babylon silenced.

Conclusion:

We are not waiting on rescue. We are the resurrection. These tools are not props — they are portals. Step into your purpose.
